THE PASSION, THE PITCHES, THE PIES - ONE FAN'S JOURNEY AROUND THE GROUNDS OF THE NORTH EAST

Harry Pearson's best selling book is brought to life on stage. A touching and funny tale of one fan's journey around the football clubs of the North East during the 1993/94 season.

This is the beautiful game at all levels - from St James' Park to Langley Park. From the multi-million pound, all-seated, corporate stadia, to a windswept, rain-soaked pie and bovril on the touchlines of the non-league game. From the days of skinheads and scarves, to recollections of Len Shackleton, Kevin Keegan and egg mayonnaise stotties, this is an affectionate tribute to football in all its forms.

FOOTBALL PHOTOGRAPHY AND THE WORLD

An illustrated talk by Stuart Clarke

Thursday 13 April | 6pm | £2

As part of Gala's celebration of the beautiful game, Thursday's performance of The Far Corner is preceded by this fascinating talk. Described as the country's leading photographer of football culture, his Homes of Football exhibition has changed the way many people think about the national game. This captivating talk, illustrated by Stuart's stunning images, shows the great resonance and influence that football culture has, beyond the game itself.
